Foreword

Members of the journalism class of Frankenmuth High School take great pleasure in presenting the fourth volume of the "Eyrie" with the hope that it will recall pleasant thoughts and happy memories.

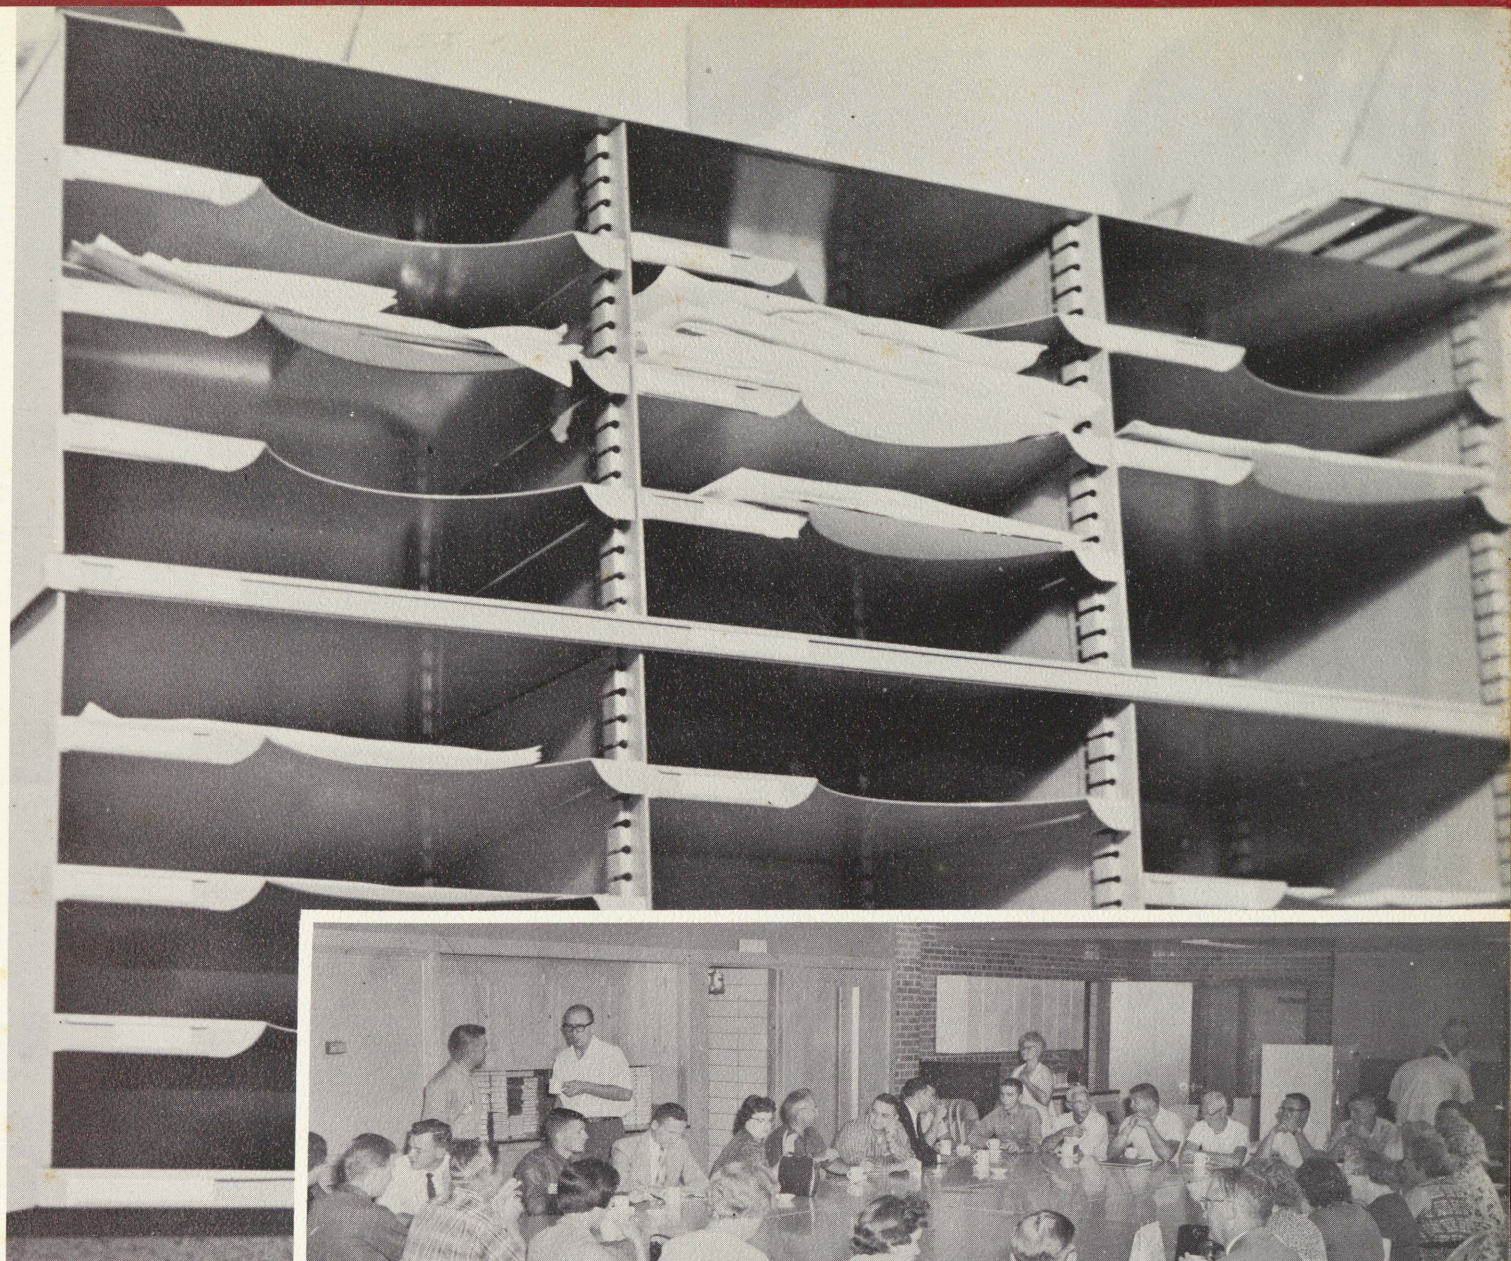

The use of "Old Glory" has become a traditional symbol in the Eyrie, and in this volume we will present many of the thoughts and ideas for which this flag of the United States stands. We hope that it will serve as a constant reminder of the blessings we, as Americans, enjoy.

Gathering at the pre-school meeting to discuss the school program for the coming year are members of the faculty along with other school personnel.

To the entire faculty of Frankenmuth High School, who has given countless hours of service and understanding, not only to promote students' academic education, but to give them a well-rounded background in all areas to prepare them adequately for the future, we dedicate the Eyrie, 1961.

Dedication

...who have meditated on the art of governing mankind have been convinced that the fate of empires depends on the education of youth."-----Aristotle

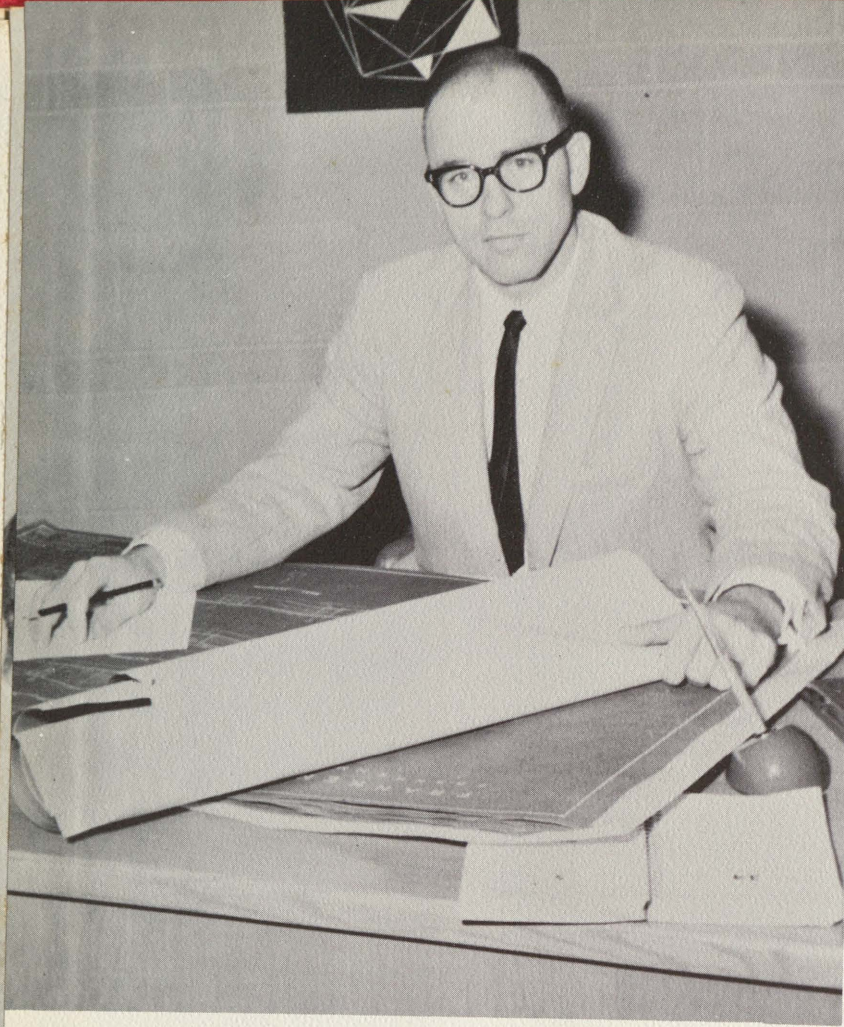

Objectives of this school district are to maintain a well-rounded educational program throughout the entire system.

The basic objective of this program is to produce good citizens, who have learned to develop their social, physical, and mental potentialities to the fullest.

Operating under a new law, the board has expanded from five to seven members. These members are, left to right, T.W. Johnston, John Ziegler, Lorenz List, Arnold Nuechterlein, Julius Yoba, Wyman Hegenauer, and Walter Frahm.

Board of Education

Administration

Richard Ziehmer, superintendent of Frankenmuth Public schools, graduated from Pontiac High School. After serving in the Army, he continued his studies at Eastern Michigan University, and graduated in 1952 with a Bachelor of Science degree.

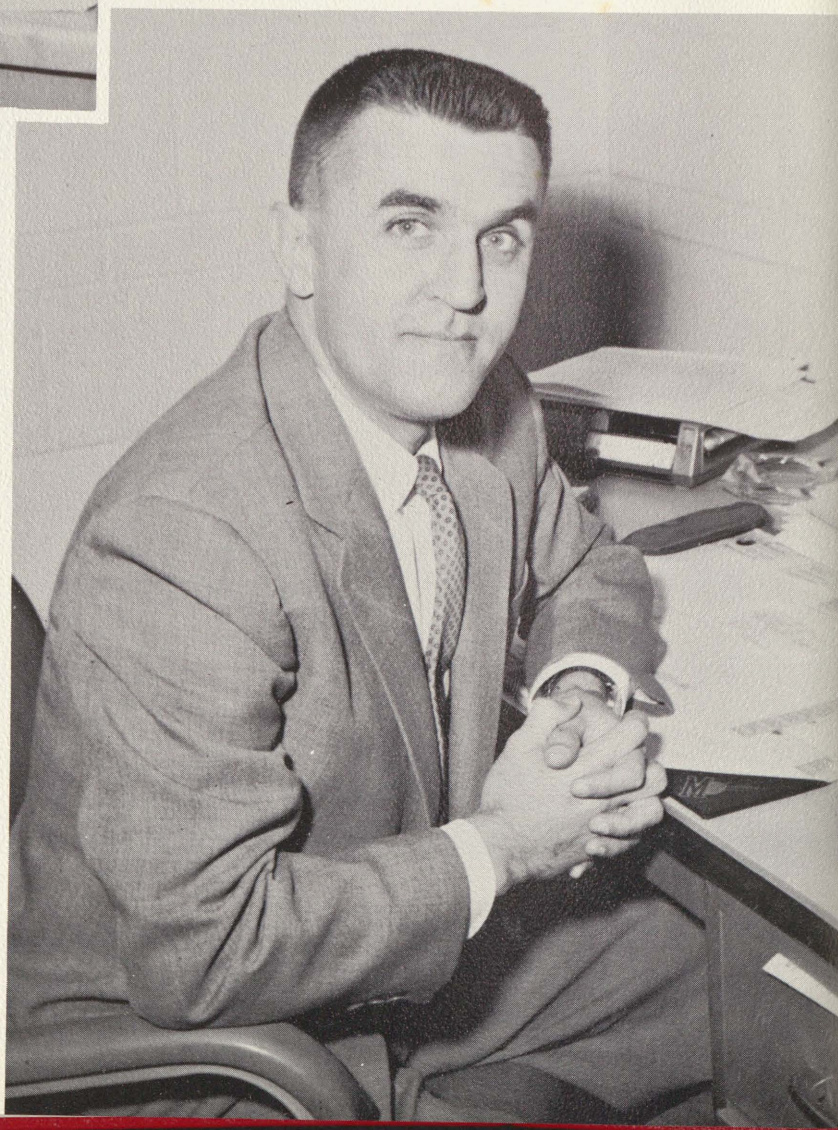

Mr. Ziehmer taught at Walled Lake for one year and Almont for three years before coming to Frankenmuth in 1958, where he served as English teacher and coached debate and forensics.

In 1959 he obtained his Masters degree from the University of Michigan and was appointed as principal. In the summer of 1960, Mr. Ziehmer assumed the duties of superintendent and will continue serving in this capacity for the 1961-1962 school year. At the present time he is also doing graduate work through the University of Michigan.

Robert Wallen, principal of Frankenmuth High School, is a graduate of Central Michigan University, class of 1950. Following his graduation he came to Frankenmuth where he served for seven years as a mathematics and shop teacher and later as principal. He obtained his master's degree from the University of Michigan in 1953.

Mr. Wallen left Frankenmuth in 1958 to continue graduate studies at the University of Michigan for fifteen months. He served as teacher and counselor for nine months thereafter at Dearborn Township Schools.

In 1960 he returned to Frankenmuth as principal, a capacity which he will fill for the 1961-1962 school year.

Elementary Administration

James Vitany has served as principal of the Frankenmuth District Elementary School since 1956 and will return for the 1961-1962 school year. In addition to his duties as principal, he teaches the sixth grade and assists in coaching elementary and junior high sports.

Mr. Vitany graduated from Central Michigan University in 1949 with a Bachelor of Arts degree and obtained his Masters degree from the University of Michigan in 1954.

Counselors

Homer Stinchcombe and Mrs. Helena Kaczynski are in charge of the guidance and counselling program at Frankenmuth. When students desire advice or information concerning vocational, educational, or personal matters they are very capably assisted by the counselors.

Mr. Stinchcombe is head of the guidance and testing program, while Mrs. Kaczynski works in a part time capacity. Both are graduates of Central Michigan University with Masters degrees from the University of Michigan.

Doris Beyerlein has been working in the superintendent's office for three years, and is always willing to assist a stray student, teacher, or Mr. Ziehmer. She is a former graduate of Frankenmuth High School.

Office Personnel

Karen Janson, who started as a co-op student last year, handled all the money and checks in the superintendent's office. Karen left in April to assume duties as medical secretary at St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw.

Always smiling, always helpful, Charlotte Worley carries on as the "backbone" of Mr. Wallen's office. Mrs. Worley has served as high school secretary since 1957, and plans to return next year.

Custodians

Credit for the maintenance and cleanliness of the school and the neat grounds goes to the custodians. Left to right are Ron Palmreuter, Kurt Schmitzer, William Gallagher, Mrs. Schmitzer, and Alois Schmitzer. Mr. Schmitzer, head custodian, along with his wife and son, have a full time job keeping the school clean. Larry Rodammer, not pictured, is also a janitorial assistant.

Transportation

Arthur Hildner has taken the place of Carl Stromer as head of transportation. Buses are kept in excellent condition by Mr. Hildner, who drives a school bus every day and takes the athletes to games and meets.

Hot Lunch

In January of 1950, a hot lunch program was added to the ever-growing Frankenmuth High School by Mrs. Elizabeth Simpson. Later that year, Mrs. Christine Rummel was appointed head cook, assisted by Mrs. Ella Mueller. As the school grew, additional cooks were hired to fill the need, at present there are seven cooks who serve 450 students a day. They are, back row, Mrs. Delphine Stroebel, Mrs. Doris Creger, Mrs. Myles Willard, Mrs. Helen Block. Front row, Mrs. Dorothy McMahonill, Mrs. Christine Rummel, chief cook, and Mrs. Ada Loesel.

"The primary concern of American education today is not the development of the appreciation of the good life. Our purpose is to cultivate in the largest possible number of our future citizens an appreciation of both the responsibilities and the benefits which come to them because they are Americans and are free."-----
Report-Harvard University.

ACTIVITIES

English

Teaching the elements of the English language are left to right; Donald Barnett, Thomas Thompson, Mrs. Margret Willis, and Miss Lois Curtis.

The English department at Frankenmuth High School has been patterned after the requirements established by most colleges. Under this system the freshman year is devoted to the review of the elements of language; sophomores receive further instruction in grammar; juniors become acquainted with American literature, and seniors are familiarized with English authors.

Freshman English classes, under the instruction of Donald Barnett, reviewed the fundamentals of grammar.

Thomas Thompson, in charge of teaching sophomore English, spent the year instructing students in further grammar usage and time was also devoted to a study of the sophomore literature books.

Typical of high school programs geared for students' better understanding of American authors, the section of the junior class taught by Margret Willis devoted their time to becoming familiar with authors who helped mold the opinions and policies of our country. Mr. Barnett, also a junior instructor acquainted his students with American contemporary authors through the use of paperback books.

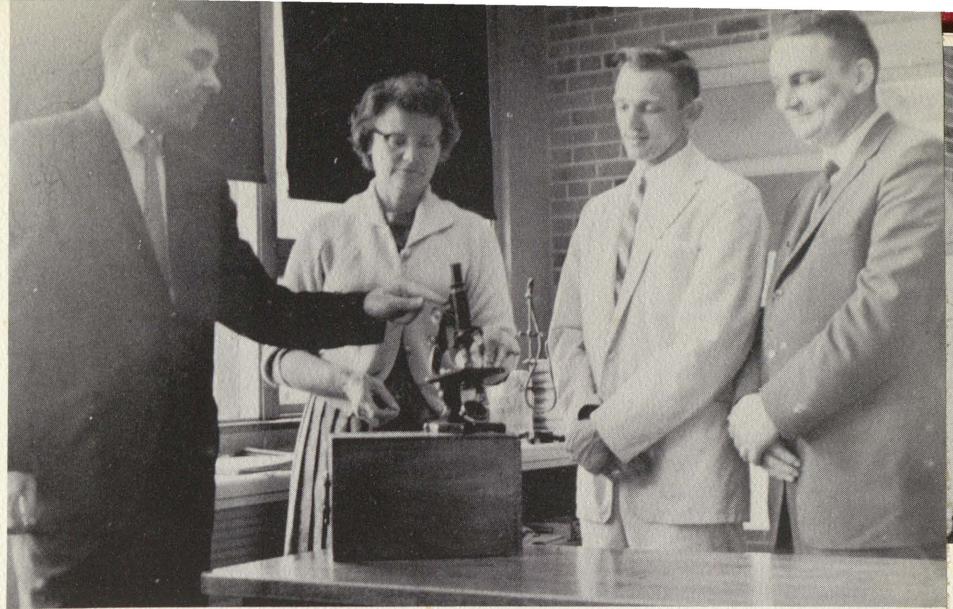

This year an college English program was instigated. The seniors were given a choice of taking college English, designed for students who plan to continue their education; terminal English, intended for students whose formal education will end with high school; and improvement English, set up for students who have difficulty in English. Lois Curtis served as instructor for college and terminal English classes and Donald Barnett was in charge of the improvement English class.

Science and Mathematics

A study of first aid was one of the things that was taught in the biology classes this year. Charlotte Kern, foreground, has a splinter applied to her leg as Dennis Recla and Judith Aldrich work on another person in the background.

Trying to discover an answer by means of an experiment are Charles Rose and William Schmidt.

Languages and Speech

Another "first" added to the high school program was the addition of a second foreign language, Spanish. Miss Lois Curtis taught a first hour Spanish class as well as an hour of speech in the afternoon. Walter Bartz, taught several first year German classes and two second year classes.

Studying for the final exam are first year German students, Charlotte Schiefer, Arlene Ulrich, Janet Schury, Susan Schmitzer. In the background is Gerald Daenzer.

Social Studies

In the social studies field are included: world history, geography, American history, government, and economics.

In its second year of operation, the television program has grown to include two classes, American History and Government-Economics. Alfred Zink, right, a 36 year veteran of teaching is in charge of the telecasts.

The globe is the center of attraction as Richard Krueger, William Roedel, and Edwin Knoll explore the country about which they are studying in their geography class.

Melvin Riess and Jack Lindow listen intently as Mr. Bartel lectures in world history.

Fine Arts

Another "first" inaugurated at Frankenmuth High was the introduction of a fine arts class. The purpose of the class was to give students an insight as to the cultural aspects of education. On alternating days the class met with Carl Nordstrom, music teacher, and Mrs. Margret Willis, art instructor.

Top, Carl Nordstrom instructs Kay Warnick on the piano.

Explaining the technique of silk screening to Sharon Schwartzkopf is Mrs. Margret Willis, art instructor. Besides this technique the class also learned the art of water color, ceramics, chalk, and charcoal.

Art

Like the art section of the fine arts class, the art class also worked with water color, ceramics, chalk, charcoal, and silk screening.

Exploring their book of water color techniques are Kay Brechtelsbauer, Elizabeth Brender, and Sharon Schwartzkopf.

Band

Frankenhmuth High School's band has been instrumental in creating spirit and enthusiasm at football and basketball games throughout the school year. They also played at various assemblies and community functions such as Memorial Day and the Bavarian Festival.

Band is a regular class in the day's schedule and is taught by Mr. Nordstrom. He also teaches several sections of elementary music and junior band.

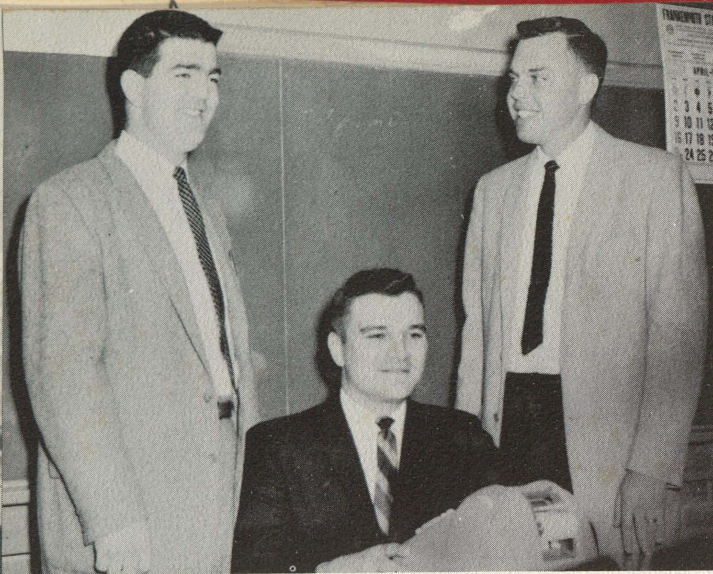

The band forms a big "D" for Dad in honor of the fathers of the football players.

Commercial Studies

Studying diligently in bookkeeping class are Sharon Krueger, Peggy Cooper, and Julie VanWormer.

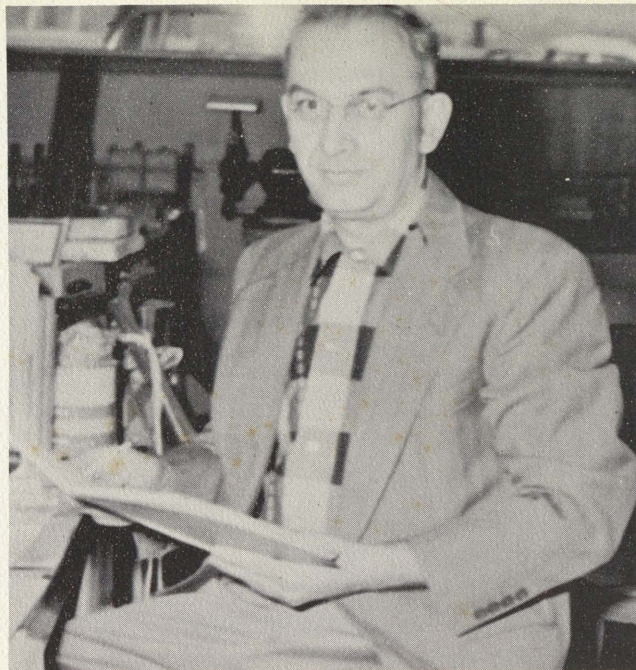

Learning how to type are freshmen, Naida Lou Krafft, Gloria Laux, Dianne Loesel, and Allan Woelzlein.

Industrial Arts

Guiding the students through different phases of industrial work is Warren Naber. Industrial arts at F.H.S. includes: shop, mechanical drawing, and auto mechanics.

Busily engaged in mechanical drawing are James Veitengruber and Robert Offenborn.

Homemaking

Journalism

Pride and joy of the hard working Journalism students are its three publications: the Eagle Echo, the bi-weekly letter press high school newspaper; the Little Aquila, the mimeograph elementary newspaper; and the Eyrie, the school yearbook. Since their origin these editions have been self-supporting with the exception of the photography department.

Five scholarships for students to attend the M.S.U. high school journalist's course this summer were again made possible through the Frankenmuth News, the Frankenmuth State Bank, Frankenmuth Mutual Insurance Company, and the Carling Brewing Company. Winners of the scholarships are left to right; Steven Grainger, Bert Bleke, Creighton Boike, Sheila Jordan, and Sara La Riviere with Mrs. Willis, advisor.

Library

A busy and buzzing place, the library offers abundant reference material for the students. Miss Philippa Yelland, school librarian, is always ready to aid students with her vast knowledge about books.

Miss Philippa Yelland, A.B., A.B.L.S. M.S.U. and U. of M. came to Frankenmuth five years ago as the school's first librarian. During these five years she has purchased more than 4,000 books for the school, established the Dewey decimal system, and brought the library up to North Central standards. Here Miss Yelland, who will be retiring this year, explains to Karen Irish and Janice Mayer, library assistants, where to find information.

Aiding Miss Yelland with her work are student library assistants Myra Daenzer, Karen Irish, Dorothy Lamb, Mary LaMountain, and Janice Mayer.

In recognition of her 40 years of service in the public school system, Miss Yelland was honored by faculty members, school board members, and friends at a testimonial dinner at Zehnder's Hotel in April. At right are Mr. and Mrs. Martin Willis, Miss Yelland, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ziehmer, and Mr. Walter Frahm.

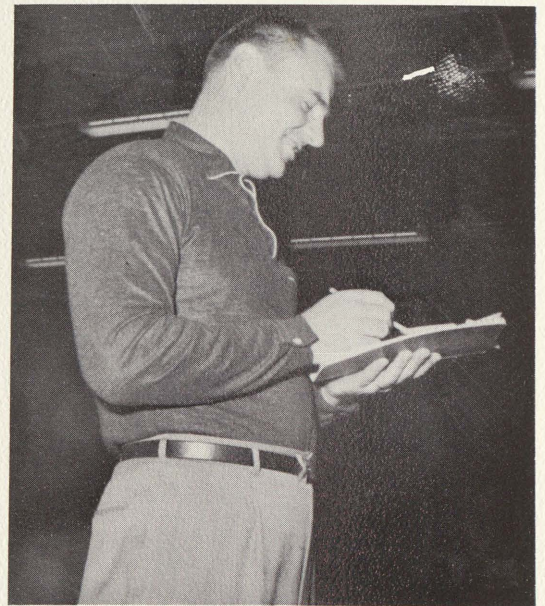

The fourth annual Book Fair was thoroughly enjoyed by both students and adults. Because of its increased size, the exhibit was divided into two sections. The first section for young adults was held in February. The second section was held in March for elementary pupils. Left is pictured a group of elementary students as they explore the books on exhibit.

Physical Education

Frankenmuth participated in another program sponsored by Central Michigan University, the Teaching Program Project in which a college student attends school for five years with one semester of each of the last three years spent in externing at various high schools in the area. The two teachers connected with this program were Miss Annette Bordua and Miss Beverly Zimmer, (L) shown here with Christine Shomaker, and Janet Loesel.

Head of the boys' physical education program is Harry Kaczynski, taking roll.

Student Teachers

For the third consecutive year Frankemuth High School has participated in Central Michigan University's student teaching program. Under this program future teachers of the college are assigned to teach at a high school for a period of eight weeks during their senior year. Each student teacher works with a affiliated teacher throughout the various departments of the school. Frankemuth High School had seven participating student teachers during the year.

Working in the social science department was Larry Lambert of Vassar, left. Ted Zyrowski, right, of Kingston, gained his teaching experiences in the commercial field.

Also working in the social science department was Clifford Klein of Saginaw, left, while David Bauer of Bayport assisted in the English department.

Explaining a lesson to John Kern is Fred Miller of Clare. Mr. Miller worked with the shop classes.

John Heinrich, left, a native of Reese, aided the social science department while Alan Springgay of Clio received his training in the math field.

"Do not worry about not holding high position, worry rather about playing your proper role. Worry not that no one knows of you; seek to be worth knowing." - Confucius

EXTRACURRICULA

Students at FHS annually participate in a campaign convention in which nominees for student body president are presented and give their speeches. This gives students personal experience in one of the basic principles of our American democracy. Here students exuberantly cheer as their candidate is introduced.

R ACTIVITIES

Student Council

The Student Council, under the excellent leadership of President Michael Nuechterlein, had a busy agenda during the past school year. The group sponsored one assembly per month and several dances.

They also introduced several firsts for Frankenmuth High, among them: floats for Homecoming festivities, two Dress-up Days, Spring election of Student Body president and vice-president, and an activity card which is to be sold in the fall.

Newt Loken, University of Michigan gymnastic instructor, bounces Keith Grainger on the trampoline during one of the assemblies sponsored by the Council. Looking on are two members of the U. of M. gymnastic team.

G.A.A.

Operating the concession stand at the football games, selling popcorn at the basketball games and serving at "Dad's Night" were the main activities of the G.A.A. They also sponsored several playdays, a Mother's Tea, Varsity Night and JV Night.

Here, members participate in a heated game of bombard.

Alfred G. Zink Chapter - National Honor Society

Suzanne Simpson lights the candle of leadership at the Millington chapter initiation on February 15.

Named in honor of the oldest teacher in years of service to the Frankenmuth school system, the National Honor Society was formed in 1957 with a total of eighteen members. As the school expanded, membership in this society increased.

Members of this society are chosen because they have exemplified the qualities for which the emblem stands: character, scholarship, leadership, and service.

On February 15, this society inaugurated another "first" for Frankenmuth High School when the Alfred Zink Chapter became the sponsoring organization for Millington High School's new chapter. The Frankenmuth chapter inducted 30 of their students in an impressive candle lighting service, directed by Mrs. Margret Y. Willis.

Jean Rodammer, Elizabeth Brender, Mary Ann Laux, Connie Fischer, Joan Rupprecht, Secretary-Treasurer. Camera Shy: Michael Nuechterlein.

Margret Y. Willis Chapter - Quill and Scroll

Formed in 1958, the Quill and Scroll Society was named in honor of the school's first journalism teacher, Mrs. Margret Y. Willis.

Membership into this international honorary society for high school journalists is based upon two main areas----the student must be a junior or senior in the top one-third of his class; and he must have done superior work in some phase of journalism.

Each year members of the journalism class choose one student who has contributed the most to the class, and his name is inscribed on the Quill and Scroll plaque. This year's selection was Creighton Boike.

Debate

Debate offers students an opportunity to develop not only their speaking ability, but encourages them to think logically.

The debaters enjoyed a record of 75% victories for which they received a Detroit Free Press plaque for "excellence in high school debating."

Elimination play-offs were held during the latter part of the school year as members put their ability to a test. Myles Willard, pictured below, emerged as champion after a tremendous display.

Chess

The Chess Club at FHS was organized when a group of serious-minded students displayed an interest in the challenging game. At first the number of players was small; but gradually enthusiasm was aroused, and the number of avid chess fans grew. In December of 1960 the Chess Club, consisting of twenty-six members, was officially formed, with Carl Schmitzer being elected president. Meetings were held every day during noon hour.

Forensics

Coach Lois Curtis smiles happily as she poses with Rhea Fischer and Joan Rupprecht after they both placed in the District Forensics Contest at Frankenmuth.

Below, are interpretative reading contestants Elizabeth Brender and Jack Hildner. Elizabeth placed second in the District contest and third in the Regional.

Above, Mary Zeilinger, humorous reading entry, placed fourth in the District Contest with a selection she had written herself. With her is Sharon Leidel who was entered in the declamation category open only to sophomores. Not pictured is Michelle Schutt, who was also in the humorous reading division and placed third in the District contest.

Rhea Fischer and Marjorie Mueller participated in the extempore speaking division. Rhea placed second in the District and fourth in the Regional, while Marjorie placed fourth in the District.

MaryLou Loesel admires Joan Rupprecht's dictionary which she won for placing first in the District Contest. Both were in original oratory, and Joan also placed third in the Regionals at Flint.

A highlight of this year's Parent Teachers Association was the February meeting's demonstration of the tools of learning as used by various classes. Other P.T.A. projects included a rummage sale, the March of Dimes faculty vs. Bridgeport State Troopers basketball game, and a card party. Officers include; President, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hammond; Vice-President, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Immel; Secretary, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Loesel; and Treasurer, Dr. and Mrs. Neil Love.

Here Mr. Ziehmer explains the cost of the school program to Donald Geyer and Earl Hammond.

Adult Education

Adult education classes were taught again this year on Monday evenings with art, millinery, golf, English and physical education being offered.

Millinery class is being taught by Mrs. Betty Stanley of Vassar.

Mrs. Willis explains an art technique to her ceramics students.

Band Boosters

Band Boosters is an organization of parents who are interested in promoting music in both the high school and elementary school. One of their main projects this year was the sponsoring of the AC Band Concert.

Junior-Senior Dinner-Dance

"Southern Serenade" was the theme of the Junior-Senior Prom on Saturday, May 27, 1961. At 7:00 p.m. a dinner banquet was held at the Bavarian Inn preceding the dance in the gym at Frankenmuth High School. The setting was that of a southern plantation complete with a cotton field depicted by a mural, orange trees, flowers, birds and butterflies. The ceiling was angel hair which represented the low-hanging Spanish moss found in the South. Music was provided by the Fred Gunsel Orchestra.

Play between the Frankenmuth Eagles and the Caro Tigers is temporarily halted as players of both teams and the referees search for contact lenses lost by a Caro player. They were found!

ATHLETICS

Cheerleaders

Chosen by the members of the faculty, several student council members, and the senior cheerleaders of the '59-'60 school year last spring, the girls practiced all summer. All varsity cheerleaders attended a camp and workshop at Syracuse, Indiana.

Homecoming

Chosen by a committee composed of various student council representatives, faculty members and football players to reign at the fourth annual homecoming ceremonies during the game against Bad Axe on October 7th were Sandra Rummel, Queen Cheryl Geyer, and Christine Schomaker.

Addressing the crowd after being named Homecoming Queen is tearful but happy Cheryl Geyer.

Basketball

Although the team won only seven of the sixteen games they played, they proved to be stiff competition for their opponents. In the district tournaments at Lakeville, the Eagles lost in their first preliminary game against Millington; thus ending the season with seven wins and seventeen losses. Most valuable senior award for basketball was presented to Thomas Weiss and Randall Heine.

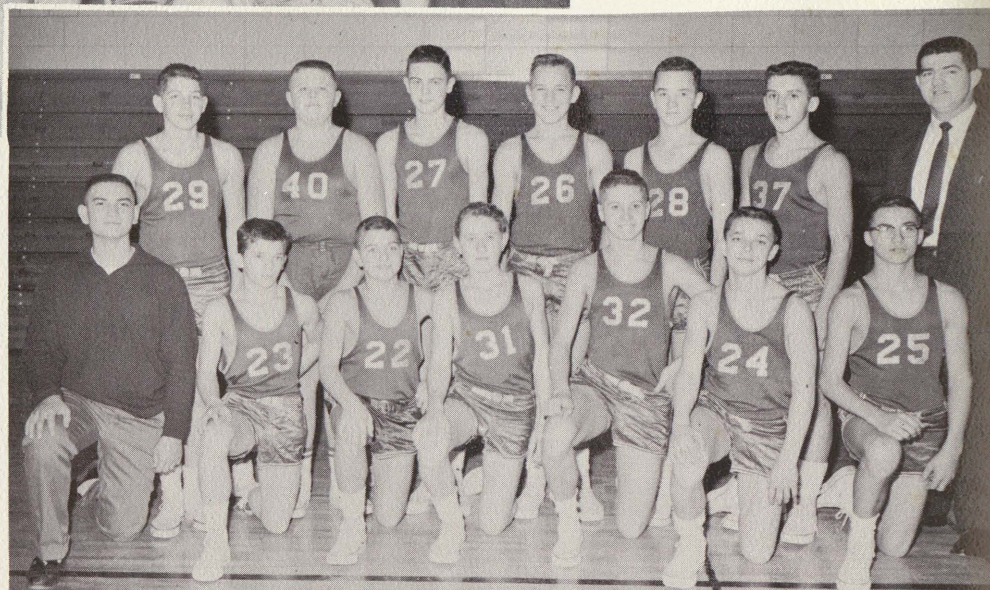

Richard Haffner, varsity coach, discusses an issue with Marco Marcet, junior varsity coach. This was Mr. Haffner's first year of coaching.

"Wisdom is the principal thing;
therefore get wisdom; and with all thy getting get understanding." -
Proverbs 4:7

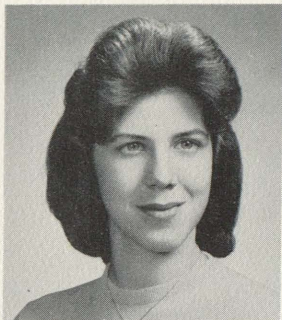

We speak about the future, but who can tell what lies ahead? The world with its ever changing complexities is a great challenge to us. Remembering the words of our class motto, "We build the ladder upon which we climb," we step into the world, confident that we will succeed.

Class History

On June 7, 1961, the senior class of Frankenmuth High School ended four exciting years of fun, hard work, and companionship when they received their diplomas. As these students crossed the threshold to the future, they were able to take with them fond memories of four eventful years.

They began their freshman year on September 3, 1957, with great anticipation. Eager to start out on the right foot they chose Michael Nuechterlein, president; Constance Fischer, vice-president; Alice Floeter, secretary; and Corinne Bleke, treasurer; to serve as their class officers, while James Baker, Robert Hart, and William Knoll were elected to serve on the student council. Instead of sponsoring any outside activities, they used their freshman year to become acquainted with the high school routine.

As sophomores they entered into the whirl of high school activities by sponsoring a work day under the leadership of Constance Fischer, class president; Robert Kern, vice-president; Donald Chase, treasurer; and Margit Joerke, secretary. Robert Hart, James Baker and Michael Nuechterlein represented the class on the student council.

The junior year proved to be the most active and exciting for the class of 1961, for besides sponsoring the annual Krazy Karnival and the Junior-Senior Dinner-Dance, they also undertook an Italian spaghetti dinner, a work day, and a car wash. All the events turned out to be a tremendous success due to class cooperation and the capable class officers, Detlef Olsen, president; Walter Reinbold, vice-president; William Hook, secretary; and Joan Rupprecht, treasurer. Michael Nuechterlein, James Baker, and Robert Hart were student council representatives.

Beginning their final year of high school, the class elected Leonard Felgner, president; Randall Heine, vice-president; Constance Fischer, secretary; and Marjorie Mueller, treasurer. James Baker, Robert Hart, Joan Rupprecht, Thomas Weiss, and Detlef Olsen served on the student council. The class sponsored a dance after a football game, held a class picnic, and spent the rest of the year working on graduation and baccalaureate plans. At last the long-awaited day arrived-graduation and the end of this important era of their lives.

Top Ten Seniors

These smiling people, Corinne Bleke and James Baker, were elected the "most popular" girl and boy in the senior class by their classmates.

Mock Elections

Kay Brechtelsbauer seems to be very amazed as she feels the muscles of Randy Heine. The two were elected "best athletes" of the class.

Practicing the latest dance fad, "The Social," are MaryAnn Laux and William Hook elected "best dancers" by the Class of '61.

Michael Nuechterlein and Sally Sohn were elected "best dressed," and a first glance proves that they are very deserving of the title.

Joan Rupprecht seems to be saying something profound as Robert Hart listens attentively. The two were elected "most likely to succeed." Only time will tell!

Posing prettily for the camera is Sandra Rummel and her handsome companion, William Hook, also follows suit. They were elected "best looking" by their classmates.

Senior Outing

Gathering for their last round-up, the senior class of F.H.S. sailed up and down the Cass River on May 29, 1961. Boats of various sizes provided by the Frankenmuth Boat Club served as transportation. Highlight of the day came when the hungry "sailors" were fed barbecued chicken prepared by members of the Rotary Club.

The three screwballs of the senior class enjoy themselves by "airing" their heads and feet in the mist of the Cass. Beverly Vanek, Corinne Bleke, and Gloria List found out in their ventures that "when boats pass, water splashes."

Alfred Zink, captain of his boat, takes Bob Hart and Helga Schillinger for a ride. Two unidentified characters between them discuss the possibilities of being thrown in the river.

Enjoying the "Water Wonderland" Cass River" is the energetic swimmer, Bob Hart.

Soaking the sun and water while Alfred Zink guides the boat are Jean Rodammer, top, and Suzanne Simpson, bottom.

Helping themselves to chicken are Carolyn Palmrueter, Martha Poellet, Jean Rodammer and Mary Zeilinger. At the right are Connie Fischer, Bob Hart, Helga Schillinger, Judy Yoba, and Kay Krause. At a different table, Corinne Bleke, Bob Offenborne, and Eugene Knoll enjoy their meal.

Even the older set had fun on the senior trip as is shown by Chester Aldrich, Dr. F. Brender and Bill Rummel as they eat their meal.

Doing a new dance step are Mary Ann Laux and Bill Hook.

Chaperones for the senior trip were Miss Lois Curtis, left, and Alfred Zink.

Showing how it's done are Kathie Burgess and David Hunter.

Baccalaureate And Commencement

Baccalaureate services for the 104 members of the Class of '61 were held on June 4th, 1961, at St. Lorenz Lutheran Church with Rev. Phillip Janz officiating. Several hymns were sung, and the graduates heard an inspiring talk.

Commencement exercises were held on June 7, 1961, on the football field. It was a momentous event for the class and pictured here are several examples of the evening's activities.

BELOW, Dr. Preston W. Slossom, commencement speaker predicted an exciting future for the class in his address.

LEFT TO RIGHT: Sally Sohn, salutatorian who spoke about the future and what it holds for the graduates . . . . . Joan Rupprecht, valedictorian, whose topic was "Freedom from Prejudice."

"There are but two roads that lead to an important goal and to the doing of great things: strength and perseverance. Strength is the lot of but a few privileged men; but austere perseverance, harsh and continuous, may be employed by the smallest of us and rarely fails of its purpose, for its silent power grows irresistibly greater with time." - Goethe

Class History

William Zuellig was elected president of the junior class to head the many class activities this year. Larry List served as vice-president, Deanna Kaul, secretary, and Miriam Janson as treasurer. The student council representatives were: Bert Bleke, Cheryl Geyer, Gary Hegenauer, Carla McConnell, and Lanny Nuechterlein. The 86 members of the junior class worked hard to make their class activities a great success. These included the Sadie Hawkins Dance and the annual Krazy Karnival to raise money for the event that climaxes every year, the Junior-Senior Dinner Dance on May 27. With "Southern Serenade" as their theme the juniors did a remarkable job under the direction of Mrs. Margret Willis, junior class sponsor.

Television, a recent addition to the high school, was utilized by the juniors as a tool of learning. Several students went to Ann Arbor on May 24, to film a typical television class for the Midwest Airborne Television. Sponsors for the junior class were Lewis Weiss, Charles Bartel, Jr., James Owens, and Mrs. Margret Willis.

Discussing a very important issue at the Homecoming Dance is Bert Bleke, Lanny Nuechterlein, Richard Galsterer, and Gerald Daenzer.

While Larry Schuyler is practicing up on his dart throwing Keith Jammer watches interestedly. Sharon Schwartzkopf is in the background.

Class History

The sophomore class, feeling a bit braver in this their second year of high school, sponsored several activities. They proved to be a hard-working co-operative group as they had a work day, a bake sale and a dance.

The entire class also spent two days taking the Flanagan Aptitude Classification Test, an experience which left them both physically and mentally exhausted.

Class History

The freshman class of 1961 as others before them sponsored no all-school activities, but concentrated on adjusting themselves to the routine of high school.

However, the class did sponsor a class party held in the high school gymnasium and which was a great success.

SAFEGUARD YOUR FUTURE

WITH INSURANCE

Frankenthuth Mutual Insurance Company contributes to the future of Frankenthuth high school students. During the past five years a large number of graduates have been employed by the company.

The Yearbook Staff Speaks

At long last the Eyrie of 1961 is complete! It is with pleasure that we, the staff members, offer this book to our fellow students. As usual, the Eyrie was scheduled for fall distribution and for this reason much of the work had to wait until the closing days of the school year before the last item could be completed.

A yearbook is a book of memories and thus we try to enclose all the highlight activities, a record of our work and play, and the joys and heartbreaks of the entire year within its covers. We hope you enjoy possessing it now, but that as each year passes, it will become more valued and endeared as a reference to things typical of our high school days and friendships.

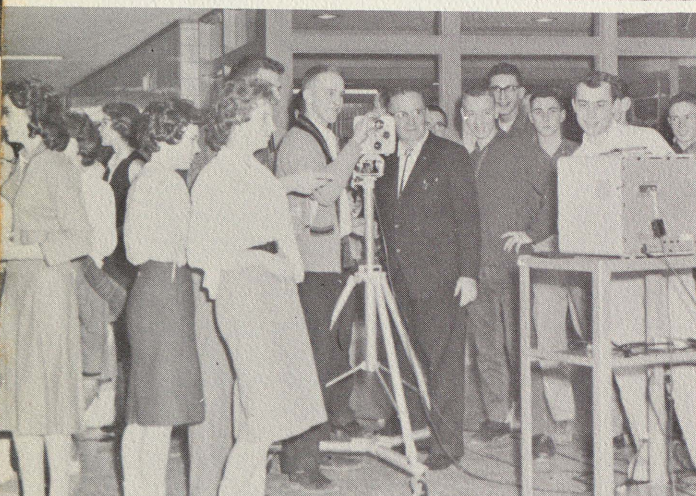

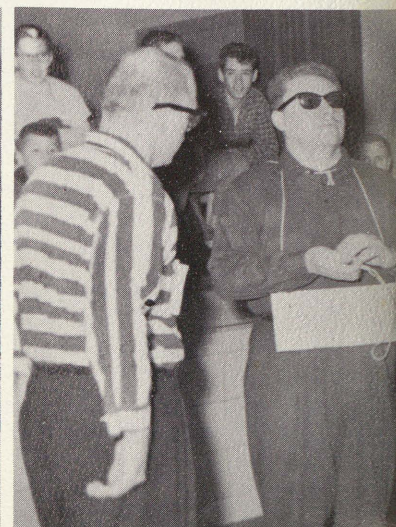

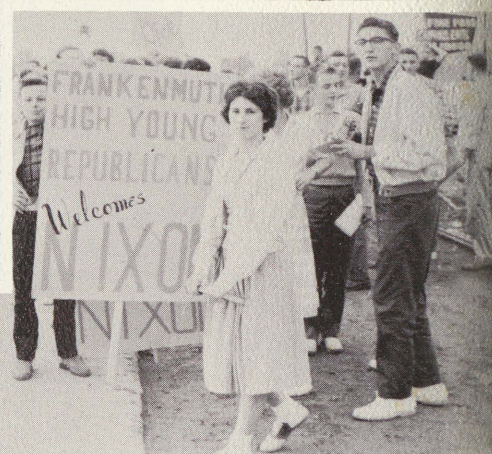

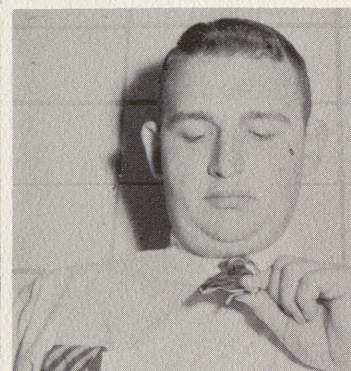

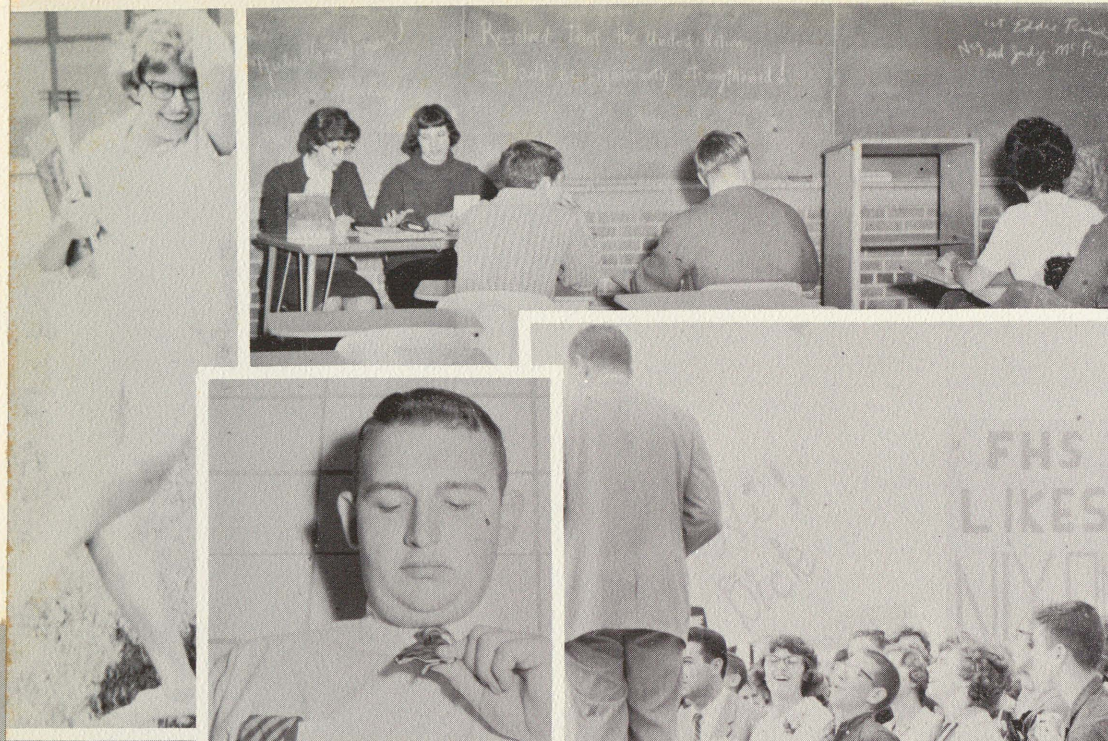

While we like to think our class is better, more important, more outstanding and the greatest, we know we are typical of graduates across the nation. It is out of this very likeness that unity and understanding grows throughout our country giving us courage to meet the needs of the future and to have the strength to face, and do that which is a part of our heritage.

At this time we wish to acknowledge and thank our advertisers, without whose generous help this yearbook would not have been possible. As in the past we ask our students to bear in mind the members of the industry and businesses of Frankenmuth who have supported the Eyrie and to realize, too, that small towns such as ours are the backbone of this great nation.

Lastly we wish to thank Mrs. Margret Willis, our advisor for her understanding, guidance, support and her ability to allow the staff to have the full responsibility for this student production.

Sincerely,
The Eyrie Staff Members
Jean Rodammer and

Hildner, Robert Hart, and Michael Nuechterlein discuss procedure at the Mock Congress sponsored by the Council. Michigan State Bell Ringers entertain students at an assembly sponsored by the Student Council. Caught taking a rest during class is Eugene Knoll. Helping the city with a census are three senior class members: Kay Brechtelsbauer, William Knoll, and David Hunter. A mock national election was held in the fall in order to acquaint students with voting procedure. Martha Poellet, David Hunter, and Julie VanWormer help with the proceedings.
